

300 IMPORTANT ONE WORD EVERYONE SHOULD KNOW

1. One who believes in God → Theist
2. One who does not believe in God → Atheist
3. One who loves mankind → Philanthropist
4. One who hates mankind → Misanthrope
5. One who is a habitual drunkard → Dipsomaniac
6. One who walks in sleep → Somnambulist
7. One who eats too much → Glutton
8. One who can use both hands equally → Ambidextrous
9. One who speaks many languages → Polyglot
10. One who studies stars and planets → Astronomer
11. One who studies the universe → Cosmologist
12. One who studies animals → Zoologist
13. One who studies plants → Botanist
14. One who studies weather → Meteorologist
15. One who studies rocks → Geologist
16. One who writes a dictionary → Lexicographer
17. One who compiles a bibliography → Bibliographer
18. One who is all-powerful → Omnipotent
19. One who is present everywhere → Omnipresent
20. One who knows everything → Omniscient
21. One who is newly converted to a faith → Proselyte
22. One who is indifferent to pain or pleasure → Stoic
23. One who lives alone → Recluse
24. One who leads an austere life → Ascetic
25. One who loves books → Bibliophile
26. One who sells books → Bookseller
27. One who repairs shoes → Cobbler
28. One who drives a car → Chauffeur
29. One who composes music → Composer
30. One who paints pictures → Painter
31. One who takes photographs → Photographer
32. One who types → Typist
33. One who teaches → Teacher
34. One who defends in court → Lawyer
35. One who rules a kingdom → Monarch
36. One who collects stamps → Philatelist
37. One who collects coins → Numismatist
38. One who studies human history via excavation → Archaeologist
39. One who foretells the future → Prophet
40. One who believes in fate → Fatalist
41. One who sells goods → Vendor
42. One who takes care of teeth → Dentist
43. One who treats diseases → Doctor
44. One who treats animals → Veterinarian
45. One who cuts hair → Barber
46. One who makes furniture → Carpenter
47. One who kills animals for food → Butcher
48. One who cooks food → Chef
49. One who acts on stage → Actor
50. One who sings → Singer

51. One who plays musical instruments → Musician
52. One who designs buildings → Architect
53. One who flies an aircraft → Pilot
54. One who guards a building → Watchman
55. One who makes people laugh → Comedian
56. One who solves crimes → Detective
57. One who announces on radio or TV → Broadcaster
58. One who manages a business → Manager
59. One who attends to patients → Nurse
60. One who works in a laboratory → Technician
61. One who works with metals → Blacksmith
62. One who trains sportsmen → Coach
63. One who plays a sport professionally → Athlete
64. One who writes poems → Poet
65. One who writes novels → Novelist
66. One who corrects manuscripts → Editor
67. One who writes articles → Journalist
68. One who conducts religious ceremonies → Priest
69. One who begs for money → Beggar
70. One who works in politics → Politician
71. One who leads a school → Principal
72. One who enforces the law → Police Officer
73. One who delivers letters → Postman
74. One who works on ships → Sailor
75. One who navigates a ship → Captain

76. One who practices law → Advocate
77. One who gives loans → Lender
78. One who lends money at high interest → Usurer
79. One who takes care of a building → Caretaker
80. One who works in a library → Librarian
81. One who makes clothes → Tailor
82. One who sells vegetables → Greengrocer
83. One who deals in flowers → Florist
84. One who makes statues → Sculptor
85. One who performs stunts → Acrobat
86. One who copies documents → Scribe
87. One who studies society → Sociologist
88. One who studies the mind → Psychologist
89. One who studies languages → Linguist
90. One who studies numbers → Mathematician
91. One who delivers babies → Midwife
92. One who assists in a shop → Shop Assistant
93. One who deals with accounts → Accountant
94. One who investigates dead bodies → Coroner
95. One who prescribes glasses → Optometrist
96. One who drives a taxi → Cabdriver
97. One who manages a hotel → Hotelier
98. One who commands an army → General
99. One who repairs water pipes → Plumber
100. One who sells meat → Butcher

101. One who abstains from all pleasures → Ascetic
102. One who lives in a foreign country → Expatriate
103. One who can endure pain → Stoic
104. One who deserts his religion → Apostate
105. One who does something for pleasure, not money → Amateur
106. One who is present everywhere → Ubiquitous
107. One who is difficult to please → Fastidious
108. One who is skilled in storytelling → Narrator
109. One who is a habitual borrower → Sponger
110. One who is against change → Conservative
111. One who supports change → Progressive
112. One who doubts everything → Sceptic
113. One who is out to subvert a government → Revolutionary
114. One who is known for courage → Valiant
115. One who pretends to be what he is not → Impostor
116. One who amuses others → Entertainer
117. One who believes in fate → Fatalist
118. One who sneaks into another country → Intruder
119. One who kills himself → Suicide
120. One who kills another → Homicide
121. One who kills his brother → Fratricide
122. One who kills his sister → Sororicide
123. One who kills his father → Patricide

124. One who kills his mother → Matricide
125. One who kills a king → Regicide
126. One who steals → Thief
127. One who steals from houses → Burglar
128. One who sets fire intentionally → Arsonist
129. One who takes bribes → Bribetaker
130. One who is a lawbreaker → Criminal
131. One who breaks trust → Traitor
132. One who betrays his country → Traitor
133. One who gives up worldly pleasures → Hermit
134. One who looks at the bright side → Optimist
135. One who looks at the dark side → Pessimist
136. One who gives opinions about books/art etc. → Critic
137. One who loves himself too much → Narcissist
138. One who loves others → Altruist
139. One who talks too much → Garrulous
140. One who talks less → Reserved
141. One who speaks little → Reticent
142. One who speaks without preparation → Extempore
143. One who works for free → Volunteer
144. One who is easily tricked → Gullible
145. One who is fond of luxury → Luxuriant
146. One who studies the skin → Dermatologist
147. One who studies cancer → Oncologist
148. One who studies the eye → Ophthalmologist
149. One who studies bones → Orthopedist
150. One who studies the brain → Neurologist

151. One who studies the heart → Cardiologist
152. One who studies kidneys → Nephrologist
153. One who studies lungs → Pulmonologist
154. One who studies the endocrine system → Endocrinologist
155. One who studies female reproductive system → Gynecologist
156. One who studies male reproductive system → Andrologist
157. One who studies mental illness → Psychiatrist
158. One who studies insects → Entomologist
159. One who studies birds → Ornithologist
160. One who studies fish → Ichthyologist
161. One who studies economy → Economist
162. One who studies society → Sociologist
163. One who studies ancient texts → Paleographer
164. One who studies human culture → Anthropologist
165. One who studies stars/space → Astrophysicist
166. One who studies weather → Meteorologist
167. One who studies earthquakes → Seismologist
168. One who studies population → Demographer
169. One who studies crime → Criminologist
170. One who studies law → Jurist
171. One who studies money → Numismatist
172. One who studies stamps → Philatelist

173. One who studies handwriting → Graphologist
174. One who collects books → Bibliophile
175. One who hates books → Bibliophobe
176. One who loves women → Philogynist
177. One who hates women → Misogynist
178. One who loves men → Androphile
179. One who hates men → Misandrist
180. One who hates marriage → Misogamist
181. One who is unmarried → Bachelor
182. One who is recently married → Newlywed
183. One who is not married by choice → Celibate
184. One who is married to many → Polygamist
185. One who marries only one → Monogamist
186. One who believes in many gods → Polytheist
187. One who believes in one god → Monotheist
188. One who believes God is in everything → Pantheist
189. One who doesn't believe in organized religion → Agnostic
190. One who preaches religion → Evangelist
191. One who converts people to a religion → Missionary
192. One who runs an institution → Administrator
193. One who works under another → Subordinate
194. One who is above others in rank → Superior
195. One who supervises → Supervisor
196. One who arranges meetings → Coordinator
197. One who represents a country → Ambassador
198. One who serves food → Waiter
199. One who takes care of a building → Janitor
200. One who reports news → Reporter

201. One who delivers speeches → Orator
202. One who acts as a go-between → Mediator
203. One who settles disputes legally → Arbitrator
204. One who judges art or taste → Connoisseur
205. One who is easily deceived → Dupe
206. One who hates others → Cynic
207. One who supports others financially → Patron
208. One who lives for pleasure → Hedonist
209. One who makes maps → Cartographer
210. One who sketches or draws → Illustrator
211. One who makes sculptures → Sculptor
212. One who translates speech → Interpreter
213. One who translates text → Translator
214. One who performs magic tricks → Magician
215. One who designs machines → Engineer
216. One who sells medicines → Pharmacist
217. One who prepares prescriptions → Chemist
218. One who studies poisons → Toxicologist
219. One who steals in stores → Shoplifter
220. One who engages in piracy → Pirate
221. One who betrays a friend → Betrayer
222. One who deserts in battle → Deserter
223. One who helps criminals → Accomplice
224. One who takes others' work as own → Plagiarist
225. One who is new in a job or place → Novice

226. One who holds extreme views → Extremist
227. One who is respected for wisdom → Sage
228. One who introduces a program → Anchor
229. One who predicts through stars → Astrologer
230. One who pretends to be ill → Malingerer
231. One who helps people with law documents → Notary
232. One who rules alone → Autocrat
233. One who is all powerful ruler → Despot
234. One who rules by birth → Aristocrat
235. One who believes violence is wrong → Pacifist
236. One who speaks harsh truths → Blunt
237. One who flatters to gain favor → Sycophant
238. One who dislikes working → Shirker
239. One who is afraid of closed spaces → Claustrophobic
240. One who is afraid of heights → Acrophobic
241. One who fears water → Hydrophobic
242. One who fears public speaking → Glossophobic
243. One who is afraid of spiders → Arachnophobic
244. One who fears darkness → Nyctophobic
245. One who avoids company → Introvert
246. One who enjoys company → Extrovert
247. One who exhibits both traits → Ambivert
248. One who doesn't drink alcohol → Teetotaler
249. One who doesn't eat meat → Vegetarian
250. One who eats everything → Omnivore

251. One who eats only meat → Carnivore
252. One who eats only plants → Herbivore
253. One who spends money recklessly → Spendthrift
254. One who saves excessively → Miser
255. One who loves nature → Naturalist
256. One who studies plants scientifically → Botanist
257. One who studies human behavior → Psychologist
258. One who studies disease in populations → Epidemiologist
259. One who governs a province → Governor
260. One who is a future ruler → Heir
261. One who writes with the left hand → Left-handed (Southpaw)
262. One who leads a musical group → Conductor
263. One who flies into space → Astronaut
264. One who predicts future by cards → Tarot reader
265. One who studies dreams → Oneirologist
266. One who is devoted to luxury and pleasure → Sybarite
267. One who withdraws from the world → Recluse
268. One who acts on impulse → Impulsive
269. One who fears being touched → Haphephobic
270. One who always finds fault → Fault-finder
271. One who has long experience → Veteran
272. One who supervises exams → Invigilator
273. One who performs postmortems → Pathologist

274. One who takes part in a contest → Contestant
275. One who suffers for others → Martyr
276. One who is considered perfect → Paragon
277. One who excels in an art → Virtuoso
278. One who thinks about others' feelings → Considerate
279. One who cannot make decisions easily → Indecisive
280. One who cannot read or write → Illiterate
281. One who is skilled with hands → Dexterous
282. One who leads blind people → Guide
283. One who delivers milk → Milkman
284. One who lends books → Librarian
285. One who sells clothing → Clothier
286. One who drives a truck → Truck driver
287. One who makes jewelry → Jeweler
288. One who maintains gardens → Gardener
289. One who delivers speeches in politics → Politician
290. One who prepares food → Cook
291. One who assists a doctor → Nurse
292. One who assists in surgery → Surgical assistant
293. One who owns land → Landlord
294. One who fights fires → Firefighter
295. One who protects wildlife → Conservationist
296. One who lives in water → Aquatic
297. One who flies aircraft in war → Fighter pilot
298. One who writes drama → Playwright
299. One who acts without speaking → Mime
300. One who is admired for bravery → Hero